1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5, 7-9, 13-16, 19-23, 25-27 and are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Baumann et al. Baumann et al. (see particularly col. 2, line 46 – col. 3, line 53; col. 13, lines 1-16; col. 14, lines 51-60) disclose polymers as set forth in the instant claims when Y1 in Baumann is the hydroxyl alkylene linkage and R24 with R26 of the instant claims form a bond. It would at be obvious to one skilled in the art to use hydroxyalkylene for Y1 in Baumann et al.

2. The requirement for restriction is repeated and made final. The nonelected claims require searches in different subclasses for materially different polymers from the polymers of the elected claims.

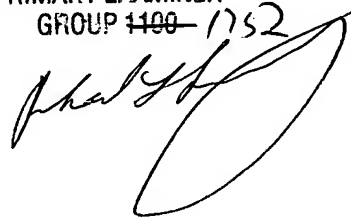

3. The prior art cited by applicants has been considered. Okazaki et al., Muller and Zweifel et al. are cited of interest in the art as disclosing polymers with pendant diimide groups.

Art Unit: 1752

4. Claims 10,11, 17, 18 28, 29 and 31 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to Richard L. Schilling at telephone number 571-272-1335.
